3rd meeting of "English Special" 2023-2024

Ealing Studios, tiny compared to the giants of Hollywood, gave us some of the most enduring classics of British cinema history up to the mid 1950s. Come and learn about the history of the studios and watch accompanying excerpts from some of the most important films.

"This small little studio produced something that was completely indigenous... The best of what we did will be watched and remembered for years to come"

– Dougie Slocombe, one of Britain's most acclaimed cinematographers.
